ABSTRACT

This short article very briefly reviews some of the causes and results of American driven wars in Afghanistan, Iraq, Kashmir, Libya, Palestine, Somalia, Syria, Venezuela and Yemen, as well as the war the U.S. is about to start against Iran, as a prelude to suggesting what may be the only way to begin to stop American government driven aggression around the world. The influence of a “freer” media during the Vietnam war and its role in ending that war is cited as an example of how a new adult, uncensored news media internet site could help in ending some of America’s current wars and prevent future wars. Money for the military industrial complex comes from American taxpayers, and perhaps those tax payers need see and listen to the carnage – the incredibly vast human suffering and death their tax dollars are paying for in order to end the slaughter of innocents in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Other necessary support strategies to put an end to corporate dominance over American military political decisions are also suggested.

Rational for Creating: Blood of the Innocent – War Illumination Project - a new adult reality-based, real-time, uncensored Internet-based international news media

What are the problems? Industrial-scale murder, torture and theft of and from millions of innocent people around the world primarily committed in the “developing world” by the richest 1% in the world who live most comfortably in the USA and Europe, utterly free from any worry or concerns of exposure or criminal prosecution. The justices on the International Criminal Court and International Court of Justice likewise sleep comfortably, albeit while they should be doing their jobs instead.

Does anybody care? Yes, many, even perhaps most people do care, but most also suffer from learned helplessness and cynicism and believe nothing can be done to change the rapidly escalating “problems”

Is anybody trying to help? Yes, there are probably about a million courageous volunteers doing aid work; and reporters, editors and publishers of the alternative press who put their lives on the line to illuminate the “problems” though only a few offer any form of solutions.

Has that help been effective? Yes and No.

Yes: On an individual basis aid workers have helped millions; and the Alternative Press has educated millions of others. However, in regards to solving the sources of these problems...

No, the military industrial complex grows ever larger and the murder, torture and theft of natural resources in the developing world escalates at increasing rates. The United Nations has failed and continues to fail every day of every year totally and completely in its mission to prevent war.

Is it time to try something different?

Obviously yes.

I. The “Problems”

FACTS

- The United States Department of Defense, in conjunction with the CIA, and a vast labyrinth of organizations often collectively referred to as the “Invisible Government” (see list below) are the biggest killers and child abusers in world history (some specific examples and statistics cited below with references).
- As time moves forward, and mass killing using missiles and drones replaces “boots on the ground” (armed soldiers) larger and larger percentages of innocent men, women and children are being wounded and killed as the result of America’s hyper-aggressive foreign policies. Just since 9/11 the number of victims is in the millions – far greater than the Roman Empire or any other empire in history. (See citations below.)
- Every American president at least since President Nixon (who ended the Vietnam War) and every Director of CIA is guilty of War Crimes.

The United Nations, probably realizing that they have failed horribly in fulfilling their mandate to prevent wars did something very strange recently. They actually produced a video that shows some of the bloody shocking realities of war.

A link is immediately below. If you are over age 18, please watch it.

This video is not ISIS propaganda. It's produced by the UN Human Rights Council.

Until now UN organizations including the UNICEF and UNHCR only has presented photos of happy smiling children, or at worst children that appear sad, as if they didn't get the birthday gifts they wanted, as compared to having survived, or not survived war and death.

UNICEF and UNHCR, as well as the full spectrum of human rights organizations have shrouded the ultimately brutal effects of the American military industrial profit-driven wars behind pastel photos of happy and mildly sad children, so-as to sooth westerner's anxieties about how their tax dollars are spent, e.g. on industrial-scale murder, torture and theft.

For a change recently, the first time to my knowledge, the United Nations Human Rights Council exposed the real brutality of the American endless wars on children in the above video. It's not "exploitation of victims" as the Neo-liberals would grandly proclaim to silence those who wish to expose the reality of war - it's a wake-up call. Is the UNHCR finally realizing how absolutely the U.N. is failing to live up to its mandate of preventing and ending wars?

Also, worth watching is a video of wanton murder in Iraq posted on Wikileaks called: Collateral Murder:

<https://collateralmurder.wikileaks.org/>

Watching this video of murder in Iraq will make anyone think twice about trying to help a murder victim, as the U.S. military murders the people who try to help the victims also.

There are a few reality based movies that do a reasonably good job of portraying the brutality of America's wars, including:

- Land of blood and Honey – Written and directed by Angelina Jolie (fictional but realistic movie about the genocide and mass raping in the Bosnian Genocide)
- Standard Operating Procedure (2008) directed by Errol Morris - Examines incidents of abuse and torture of suspected terrorists at the hands of U.S. forces at the Abu Ghraib prison.)
- Taxi to the Dark Side (2007) Alex Gibney exposes the haunting details of the USA's torture and interrogation practices during the War in Afghanistan.
- Dirty Wars: The World Is a Battlefield (2013) by Jeremy Scahill. The film is directed by Richard Rowley, and written by Scahill and David Riker. While making the documentary Dirty Wars, Scahill met the survivors of secret US hit squads in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Yemen and Somalia – and promised to tell their stories.

Whereas the first of the above list is a very powerful movie, people know it's a movie and it's unfortunately too easy for most people to dismiss. Yet, in some ways it's more powerful than the three documentaries listed below it.

What is the "Invisible Government" that is behind virtually all the war crimes going back at least to the end of WWII?

The Invisible Government of the United States

Did the reader ever hear of the Atlantic Council? How about:

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

- American Enterprise Institute
- American Foreign Policy Council
- Aspen Institute
- Brookings Institution
- Carnegie Endowment
- Cato Institute
- Center for a New American Security
- Center for Strategic and International Studies
- Center for Transatlantic Relations/Johns Hopkins Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies
- Council on Foreign Relations
- Foreign Policy Research Institute
- German Marshall Fund of the United States
- Heritage Foundation
- Hudson Institute
- New America Foundation
- Nixon Center
- Rand Corporation
- United States Institute of Peace
- Wilson Center International Center for Scholars

And then there's

- Freedom House Project for the New American Century
- U.S. Committee on NATO
- Project on Transitional Democracies
- National Endowment for Democracy and its International Forum for Democratic Studies
- World Movement for Democracy and its Network of Democracy Research Institutes
- International Republican Institute
- National Democratic Institute for International Affairs

And so on. These are knights and bishops of the American endless war machine.

The rooks would include a variety of organizations that fund the Atlantic Council, including:

- the Ford Foundation,
- the Open Society Institute,
- the German Marshall Fund of the United States and the
- Cuba Policy Foundation.

As well as:

- U.S. Departments of the Air Force, Army, Navy and Energy and from the U.S. Mission to NATO and the U.S. Mission to the European Union.

And of course, most of the top 100 corporations in the U.S. obviously including:

- Boeing,

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

- EADS North America,
- General Dynamics,
- Lockheed Martin,
- Northrop Grumman and
- Raytheon,

And other non-military corporations such as

- AT&T,
- Chevron U.S.A.,
- Daimler,
- Goldman Sachs,
- JPMorgan
- Chase,
- Fox News
- MSNBC,
- Sony,
- Textron,
- Time Warner,
- Toyota and
- Viacom and
- MSM in all its forms

The pawns who think they are kings and queens in this vast labyrinth include:

- a very wide variety of past and present politicians in the U.S. and Europe.

Big money – so-called political “donations” mostly filtered through large numbers of first-generation Americans from India, Israeli Americans and Saudi Arabia and/or via weapons purchases has likewise turned American foreign policy into little more than a mercenary force.

For a more detailed look into this hidden government that was never elected, that has usurped freedom in the U.S. and around the world, tortured and killed millions, destroyed nations and erased entire cultures see:

Can we stop hiding the uncomfortable truths, *please?

Is it even possible stop hiding the realities of primarily American sponsored wars and illuminate the brutal realities of the ever-increasing violence propagated by the American military industrial complex, in order to begin to put an end to the ever-increasing murder, torture and theft? That is the question for the sea of tyranny grows wider every minute, like the proverbial cart on a hill it’s collecting momentum sufficient that it will not be able to stop when the precipice suddenly appears.

Some people at the United Nations Human Rights Council appear to agree it is time to stop hiding the brutal truths, however their effort is only a beginning. That effort needs to be greatly expanded in order to reach out to and educate every voter in the USA and Western Europe.

We live in the era of “in-your-face” media. And yet, the cruel realities of American profit-driven wars are not in anyone's face, they are hidden and thus they continue and escalate.

Wars are (literally) damned “good business” for many, specifically those who profit from them – the richest 1% in the nations that pursue those wars, while the poor in those nations get poorer and the realities of the victims of violence are shrouded in “sensitivity” to the “feelings” of the sleeping masses in the western world that allow this ultimate violence to continue and escalate at ever-increasing rates.

At the same time, wars are a hellish nightmare without end for each and every one of the millions of innocent human beings who have to live with the brutal realities of those primarily American, French, British, Israeli and Saudi driven wars.

This includes the millions killed, the millions of surviving victim family members, the millions of torture survivors, the 68 million refugees and other displaced people due to western military and other disruptive covert actions (political assassinations, coups, etc.), and hundreds of millions of their family members who don't know if their homeless loved ones are alive, dead or in some hellish torture center, possibly in Libya or a black site somewhere.

The Mainstream Media (MSM)

And the Mainstream Media “news” hides 99.999% of the realities of those wars from the voting publics of those nations so the American, French and British military industrial complexes can keep torturing and killing increasing numbers of innocents indefinitely. When they do report “news” they never put it in context showing the real motivations, causes and conditions that led to the monstrous travesties called wars. “Readers can't read more than 500 words, the MSM editors whine. So, all the important details, the critical contexts behind these wars and conflicts are left out.

Western pundits will invariably say: “It's too extreme. Showing the realities of those wars on publicly accessible media – like an internet site - will harm our children.”

There is some truth in this.

Fortunately, now-a-days it is possible to build websites that can check IDs, and so this last argument is no longer a valid excuse to hide the truths of the “neo-colonial” wars from voting adults in principally USA, France and the UK – the many, many cruel truths of those wars those nations are currently pursuing 24/7/365 now.

At the time of this writing the USA is pursuing conflicts in 174 countries, and orchestrating escalating conflicts potentially leading to future endless wars in most of them.

In Afghanistan the American Department of Defense has realized its ultimate goal: endless war:

“In a rare and commendable effort to break through the corporate media silence and resulting public apathy, the BBC set out to track the violence of the war in Afghanistan in more detail for a single month...

“The BBC counted an average of 74 men, women and children killed each day, a total of 2,307 people killed in the month of August, with another 1,948 people wounded.

“The report broke down the numbers of people killed both by who they were and by how and where they were killed. The BBC classified the dead as 1,007 anti-occupation fighters (Taliban, Al Qaeda and IS), 675 government troops and police, 496 civilians and 3 U.S. troops...

“The BBC was able to broadly identify how 2,089 of them were killed: 844 in armed clashes; 515 in air strikes; 255 by snipers or targeted killings; 249 in explosions; 118 by shelling; and 108 in ambushes...

“The BBC counted only the lowest confirmed number of people killed in each incident, dropping conflicting reports of higher casualties, and, as the report said, “hundreds of reports were excluded and the true number of attacks and casualties could be much higher.”

“The number of combatants killed in Afghanistan is also largely unknown and ignored. The international media were surprised when President Ghani revealed in January 2019 that 45,000 Afghan troops and police had been killed since he took office in September 2014. If the BBC’s finding that government troops and police were about a third of the people killed in August 2019 was also true for the period Ghani referred to, total Afghan war deaths for those 52 months would have been about 130,000 to 140,000...

“But like the BBC’s August death count in Afghanistan, ACLED’s figures from Yemen are probably still only a fraction of the actual number of people killed. Passive reporting is still just passive reporting. ACLED cannot detect every Saudi air strike or every firefight in remote areas of Yemen any more than the BBC’s reporters could detect every air strike or night raid on remote villages in Taliban-held regions of Afghanistan...

“This has led me to conclude that the true death toll in America’s post-9/11 wars is not in the tens of thousands, nor even in the hundreds of thousands, but in the millions.”

<https://www.counterpunch.org/2019/10/07/counting-the-dead-through-the-fog-of-war-in-afghanistan/>

Please remember that those men, women and children killed in combat are only a small percentage of those that die later from the resulting hunger and medical neglect. So, take all the above numbers above and multiply them by 5, or 10 to get a more accurate accounting of the killings by the so-called American “Department of Defense” and their friends in France, the U.K. Saudi Arabia, and the UAE.

Iran

nuclear deal. The USA has in 2018 and 2019 launched an economic “total war” against Iran and is obviously in the final stages of preparing for another hot war against Iran. It’s only a matter of time and everyone knows it. President Trump is just waiting till the “right time.” What is the “right time?” Maybe when the impeachment trial gets too serious. Maybe shortly before the next presidential election. His special ops people will launch a “false flag” operation making it look like Iran attacked Saudi Arabia or Israel. Then the U.S. with the ever-so-eager Saudis and Israelis will launch full-scale war against Iran. It’s inevitable. Everyone knows it. The evidence will be fake, but that is of no concern. So was the Tokin Bay attack that launched the Vietnam War.

What kinds of dreams, or nightmares are Iranian children having now, as the sole result of America’s endless pursuit of “hegemony in perpetuity” based on a grandiose delusion of “manifest destiny?” But the child abuse in causing nightmares in millions of children isn’t quite as bad as making them all come true, as will inevitably happen when it’s convenient for President Trump.

Saudi Arabia’s king and crown prince have approved the deployment of around 3,000 US troops and equipment to the kingdom, as regional tensions rise and Washington and Riyadh face off against Tehran.

Saudi state news agency SPA announced the royal approval on Saturday night, reporting that the deployment takes place in line with the “historic relations and well-established partnership” between the two countries.

<https://www.rt.com/news/470812-saudi-arabia-us-troops-deployment/>

Another American driven war against Iran seems almost inevitable, even though there is no legal or moral justification for it what-so-ever. It certainly appears Tel Aviv and Riyadh are entirely running American foreign policy now, which operates as a mercenary group for foreign nations, and the invisible government of the U.S. is happy to use Donald Trump as a scape-goat for the carnage that is sure to follow.

Iraq

- The war in Iraq is heating up again. In only the last five days nearly 100 people have been killed there and more than 4,000 wounded. The effects of each ripple out in endless directions. <https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2019/10/iraq-protests-latest-updates-191004085506824.html>

Kashmir

- The USA is enabling India to further its stranglehold on Kashmir with a nuclear war between India and Pakistan becoming a real possibility. Anyone who doesn’t believe innocent thousands of Kashmiris are being tortured 24/7/365 is clueless regarding the 70+ years of war there.

The Hindutva – Hindu Nationalists of India have a long history with the CIA, dating back to Allan Dulles, the third director of the CIA, and founder of the “modern CIA.”

Though one might guess that the CIA gives tacit permission or perhaps even operational directives to the Hindutva, it seems the opposite is much more likely true. The Hindus have at least three thousand years of experience in war, and have for all practical purposes attained “state capture” of most of the Middle East countries, did have state capture of South Africa until 2018 and most certainly have “state capture” of the United States Senate, Congress and the president via a vast network of first generation Indians’ political campaign finance “donations.”

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

Don't believe this last assertion? Make a list of common Hindu names. Then go to <https://www.opensecrets.org/> and click on the "Donor" icon, then one by one check out their patterns of political "donations" to American politicians. It's simply huge. No other first-generation immigrant group has their political buying power. As for South Africa, they got fed up with it.

Unfortunately, the Arab nations haven't figured this out yet. In any case the Hindutva really are above the law given their access to vast quantities of money and political influence, in India, the Middle East and the USA.

“Howdy, Modi!": Trump attends Indian PM's rally in Houston, 23 Sept 2019

“US president joins 50,000 Narendra Modi supporters in Texas as thousands hold counter-protest outside the venue.

“US President Donald Trump has joined a rally in Texas to welcome Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who is visiting the United States - a rare mass showing for a foreign leader on the American soil despite trade tensions between the two countries.

“Outside the stadium, thousands of people protested against Modi over the alleged human rights violations in Indian-administered Kashmir and other places targeting India's minorities, including Muslims, who make up about 170 million of India's 1.3 billion population.

'Article 370 decision troubled some'

"Howdy, my friends," Modi said as he began his address. "When you say 'Howdy, Modi', my answer is that everything is fine in India."

“With Trump watching in the front row and listening to the translation, Modi said he was "seeking equal status and development" for Kashmir, whose partial autonomy provided under Article 370 of India's constitution was scrapped last month. Following the revocation of Article 370, Modi's government launched an unprecedented security clampdown on the region and arrested thousands of people, including senior politicians and activists.

“Internet and mobile connections have remained suspended in the Kashmir valley since August 5, inviting criticism from the human rights groups.

In regards to the white supremacists that support President Trump, please be aware that Hindu Nationalists, Israelis and Saudis already own the American government. Tragically, the American republic is already lost.

Libya

- In the wake of Hillary Clinton’s (self-confessed) murder of Libya’s sovereign leader Muammar al-Gaddafi there has been endless civil war, and an American backed army led by Field Marshal Khalifa Belqasim Haftar is now fighting a hot war against the United Nations led government there. But, nobody’s reporting on it, so it doesn’t really exist, does it?

Hillary Clinton admitted to the murder of former Libyan leader Muammar Gaddafi on TV, while laughing about it.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=44b-eKMtHI4>

Palestine

- Some sources estimate the death toll among Palestinians as high as 5,100,000 since 1948. <https://defence.pk/pdf/threads/palestinian-genocide-5-100-000-palestinians-have-been-killed-since-1948.416222/>

According to Israeli human rights organization B’Tselem:

"You'll notice right away that the overwhelming majority of the deaths are Palestinian, and have been for the almost 14 years since B’Tselem began tracking. Overall, the group has recorded 8,166 conflict-related deaths, of which 7,065 are Palestinian and 1,101 Israeli. That means 87 percent of deaths have been Palestinian and only 13 percent Israeli. Put another way, for every 15 people killed in the conflict, 13 are Palestinian and two are Israeli. (Statistics for the past two months are from United Nations Office for the Coordinator of Humanitarian Affairs.)

"They recorded 8,166 conflict-related deaths, of which 7,065 are Palestinian and 1,101 Israeli. between the year 2000 and 2014.

"Since 2005, 23 out of every 24 conflict deaths have been Palestinian."

Quoted in <https://www.vox.com/2014/7/14/5898581/chart-israel-palestine-conflict-deaths>

Given President Trumps propensity to “give” ever larger portions of Palestine to the Israelis, the death toll amongst the Palestinians is very likely to soar. Palestinians, Human Rights groups and the alternative press have loudly decried torture by the Israeli “Defense Forces, to no avail.

<https://www.aljazeera.com/indepth/opinion/palestinians-demand-freedom-torture-191008110413140.html> however this has fallen on deaf ears in the U.S. Israel is the largest recipient of American “foreign aid.”

since World War II. To date, the United States has provided Israel $142.3 billion (current, or non-inflation-adjusted, dollars) in bilateral assistance and missile defense funding. Thus U.S. tax dollars are directly paying for the ongoing genocide and increasing thefts of land in Palestine. Meanwhile some states have outlawed attempts to boycott purchase of Israeli manufactured products.

The New Israel Anti-Boycott Act Is Still Unconstitutional By Brian Hauss, March 7, 2018

“Over the weekend, two senators introduced changes to the Israel Anti-Boycott Act, which would criminalize participation in certain political boycotts targeting Israel. The changes attempt to address the civil liberties concerns raised by the ACLU and other groups.

“Unfortunately, the revised bill still violates the First Amendment. It does so by unconstitutionally penalizing Americans who participate in political boycotts of companies doing business in Israel and its settlements in the occupied Palestinian territories, if those boycotts were called for by international governmental organizations like the United Nations.

“This is impermissible. Political boycotts are fully protected by the First Amendment. The Supreme Court made that clear when it recognized, in a landmark 1982 decision called NAACP v. Claiborne Hardware, that the Constitution protected a 1960s boycott of white-owned businesses in Mississippi.”

<https://www.aclu.org/blog/free-speech/rights-protesters/new-israel-anti-boycott-act-still-unconstitutional>

“Thus far 27 states have already enacted legislation that targets boycotts for Palestinian rights.

“Anti-boycott laws have been enacted in the following states: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky* Louisiana*, Maryland*, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nevada, New Jersey, New York*, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, and Wisconsin*.”

<https://palestinelegal.org/news/2016/6/3/what-to-know-about-anti-bds-legislation>

Though anyone with even a passing familiarity with Constitutional law knows full-well that boycotting private purchases is constitutionally protected, big money and political influence trump the law in virtually every case in the U.S. historically and today.

military actions against suspected terrorists in Africa than the Pentagon has publicly acknowledged, planning and participating in combat raids by African troops in multiple countries including Somalia, Kenya, Tunisia and Niger, under a set of classified programs. “In repeated public statements, military spokespeople have said the American role in Africa is limited to “advising and assisting” other militaries. But for at least five years, Green Berets, Navy SEALs and other commandos operating under a little-understood authority have planned and controlled certain missions, putting them in charge of their African partner forces. “It’s less, ‘We’re helping you,’ and more, ‘You’re doing our bidding,’” said one active-duty Green Beret officer with recent experience in West Africa as he described the programs carried out under a legal authority known as Section 127e. Like several other sources interviewed for this story, he spoke on condition of anonymity to discuss classified programs. “Our special operators not only advise and assist and accompany their partner force, but also direct it under these programs,” acknowledged retired Brig. Gen. Donald Bolduc, who until June 2017 commanded most U.S. special operations forces in Africa, in a POLITICO interview.”

In most cases these mostly secret military "interventions" are designed to support American puppet dictators and their cronies that allow the natural resources of those nations to be taken for pennies on the dollar, while the people starve in those mostly resource rich countries.

That's the reality in many or most African countries. For more on this subject, see: White "Christian" Terrorism - Volume 2 - The Age of the Caligulas, Chapter 2: Francafrique, which can be downloaded from: <http://www.silkroadvirtualuniversity.org/white-christian-terrorism.html> for free.

Syria

Hillary Clinton has retweeted a post by an NBC correspondent about ‘atrocities’ unleashed by Turkey’s incursion in Syria, hinting that it’s all President Donald Trump's fault. Twitter sent her down Memory Lane.

"This sickening horror is one man’s fault,” she tweeted on Saturday night, commenting on a tweet by NBC’s Richard Engel, who said US military officials are concerned that the Turkish offensive “opens the door to BOTH ethnic cleansing of Kurds and return of ISIS/Al-Qaeda.”

Clinton was left open to widespread criticism over her handling of the September 11 attacks on the consulate in Benghazi, which saw the murder of four Americans, including US Ambassador to Libya Christopher Stevens. She also advocated for training and equipping moderate Syrian rebels to overthrow Bashar Assad. The arms supplied to 'moderate' militant groups in the country ended up with IS.

One tweeter responded to Hillary's insane verbal attack on President Bashir:

“This entire horror in Syria wouldn’t even be happening had it not been for you, Obama, Brennan and McCain arming, funding, training and empowering Al-Qaeda and ISIS terrorists in a fanatical push to overthrow the legitimate Syrian government. Spare us the crocodile tears.”

At least half a million people have been killed in the horror Hillary Clinton helped start in Syria, and it’s clearly not over yet.

The following is one thing missing from President Trump's and Europe's calculations regarding Turkish President Erdogan's push inside the northern fringes of Syria: The three million Syrian refugees living in Turkey.

Amid Turkish push, displaced Arab Syrians eye return to homeland

Ankara's cross-border assault on Kurdish fighters raises hopes of return home for Arab Syrians displaced in Turkey.

by Farah Najar October 14, 2019

"If it's safe, I'd take my family back in a heartbeat," said the 65-year-old farmer, an ethnically Arab Syrian who was forced to leave his ancestral land in northeast Syria after the arrival of Kurdish forces.

"There is nothing more precious than our land."

Turkey's military operation in Syria: All the latest updates

For the first time in four years, hope appears to have returned for al-Hassan and thousands of ethnically Arab Syrians who believe a Turkish operation in northeast Syria will grant them safe access to the stretch of territory they claim as their own.

<https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2019/10/turkish-push-displaced-arab-syrians-eye-return-homelands-191014130349072.html>

The article says “thousands” but the number is really in the millions. Indeed, previously President Erdogan threatened to send those refugees to Europe instead of working to find a way to send them home. But the Europeans sure didn't want them.

What is so terrible about making a corridor so they can go home? Sure, some of America's terrorist buddies don't like it, but three million refugees returning home might be able to handle Trump's remaining terrorist army. One of the great tragedies here is Presidents Erdogan and Bashir don't seem to be communicating well and this allows Trump to steal the headlines and is a major factor in causing the current violent conflict. The day the Muslims of the world start to work together so many wars will end. Unfortunately, there's always an American president, or “Secretary of State” sticking his or her nose in the middle, preventing peace from happening. How many people will die? Thousands for sure at least. How many lose their homes? Maybe hundreds of thousands, while folks in DC and Langley celebrate another “Mission Accomplished.”

Venezuela

- According to the Center for Economic and Policy Research:
“Report Finds US Sanctions on Venezuela Are Responsible for Tens of Thousands of Deaths

This Year Will Be Much Worse, Authors Say, If Sanctions Continue

For Immediate Release: April 25, 2019

Contact: Karen Conner, (202) 293-5380 x117, conner@cepr.net

Washington, DC — A new paper from the Center for Economic and Policy Research (CEPR), by economists Mark Weisbrot and Jeffrey Sachs, finds that economic sanctions implemented by the Trump administration since August 2017 have caused tens of thousands of deaths and are rapidly worsening the humanitarian crisis.”

<http://cepr.net/press-center/press-releases/report-finds-us-sanctions-on-venezuela-are-responsible-for-tens-of-thousands-of-deaths>

Of course, Venezuela has oil and that is one of the major reasons the U.S. likes to decimate foreign nations. In this case however it appears the economic stranglehold on Venezuela is just a sideshow to prove that the US government doesn't only attack Muslim nations. Try explaining that to the men, women and children dying in Venezuela from American aggression.

Yemen

- The genocide and slow torturing in Yemen enters its fifth year with over 90,000 killed from the direct effects of war violence, and at minimum three times that number killed from hunger and medical neglect resulting from that American, Saudi and UAE backed war.

“As of June 2019, ACLED counted 91,600 war deaths in Yemen. That does not include deaths from preventable diseases and food shortages in the resulting humanitarian crisis, which, as UNICEF has reported since December 2016, kill at least one child every ten minutes.”

<https://www.counterpunch.org/2019/10/07/counting-the-dead-through-the-fog-of-war-in-afghanistan/>

These are only a few examples of dozens and in fact more than a hundred violent conflict zones, crimes by the standards of international law the USA caused and is perpetuating around the world. Many people blame President Trump for current events, and indeed he does take pride in his outrageous aggression, however he is only the latest puppet - the public face - sitting in the White House responsible for “taking the heat” (blame) for the burgeoning blood, torture and death emanating from the American military-industrial complex coordinated by the Invisible Government.

How can the number of nations targeted by the U.S. be so high?

Take China for example. What's going on in Hong Kong now is not a war, yet it is a violent conflict that is provably CIA enflamed. It is a precursor to another civil war in China the USA would love to start. True, it's far from a hot war, but it's the way the CIA works. They start small, and agitate. They work to make martyrs and gain popular support. Their goal? Divide China and eliminate economic competition. Simple. There is nothing really complicated about American foreign policy. What's astonishing about events in Hong Kong is I've rarely seen in history such a classic example of mass economic suicide as is being enacted by the so-called “democracy demonstrators” there. Don't they know, the US always betrays its friends. Always. Manuel Noriega worked for the CIA and spent the rest of his life in an American prison after the U.S. invaded Panama. Saddam Hussein worked with the CIA when Iraq invaded Iran (in 1980) and 10 years later the U.S. invaded Iraq and hanged him. Open a history book and look at the Czechoslovakian and Hungarian Revolutions. Or, just read a newspaper. On Sunday October 6, 2019 President Trump is quoted as saying “that US troops would stand aside to allow a long-threatened Turkish military operation...”

<https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2019/10/battle-turkey-sdf-play-191008163138301.html>

Only three days later President Trump said: "I'll 'obliterate' Turkey's economy over Syria invasion."

<https://www.aljazeera.com/news/2019/10/trump-threatens-obliterate-turkey-economy-syria-191007155006383.html>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5supffKj2BA>

Many of the Hong Kong student demonstrators are committing crimes that are destroying the financial heritage their parents would have left them, and ensuring genuine poverty for their children if they remain in Hong Kong. It's tragic; a classic CIA "divide and conquer" stratagem. They apparently think the US is supporting them, but don't realize the creators of American foreign policies are laughing at what suckers they are. The CIA divides, father against son, husband against wife, neighbor against neighbor, village against village, nation against nation, religion against religion, ad infinitum. The youth of any nation represent the soft underbelly of that nation the CIA so loves to target. The rioters in Hong Kong's plea for "Democracy" are no different from those in a hundred other countries the US wishes to destroy. Didn't the Hillary Clinton Vs. Donald Trump election prove anything, specifically that a corrupted democracy is the worst form of government possible.

Why democracy is crumbling in the West

People are increasingly relegating decision-making to the elites and limiting their democratic participation to voting.

Patrick Gathara, October 5 2019

A famous quote from a 1920 article by US journalist Henry Mencken seems to adequately capture the situation: "As democracy is perfected, the office of president represents, more and more closely, the inner soul of the people. On some great and glorious day, the plain folks of the land will reach their heart's desire at last and the White House will be adorned by a downright moron."

Mencken believed that democratic competition would inevitably result in a race to the bottom and laid the blame on the ignorance and stupidity of the electorate. "The first and last aim of the politician," he wrote, "is to get votes, and the safest of all ways to get votes is to appear to the plain man to be a plain man like himself ... filled to the brim with the flabby, banal, childish notions that challenge no prejudice and lay no burden of examination upon the mind..."

The media exacerbates this trend both in the content of their reporting and in which manner they do so. They report the news, rather than analyse and explain it. To attract larger audiences, the sensational is prioritised over the important, and anything that cannot be easily reduced to a soundbite or squeezed into a two-minute news segment is abandoned.

<https://www.aljazeera.com/indepth/opinion/democracy-crumbling-west-191004073201364.html>

The conspiracy of silence in the MSM news is deafening (and history will record the deceit of those individuals and collective bodies responsible.)

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

Compounding the perfect storm of a world teetering on the edge of self-annihilation is the proliferation of so-called intelligence organizations and operations without oversight.

Private Intelligence Agencies Operating Without Oversight

- Some 70% of the CIA's budget is outsourced to private intelligence agencies that have no oversight, and thus are free to do what they wish which means torture and murder in low and high-profile places as long as some "plausible deniability" is incorporated into their operations. <https://fas.org/sgp/crs/intel/R44157.pdf>

Scarier still is practically nobody's ever heard of these intelligence organizations:

How the U.S. Military Undermines the American Economy by David Rosen, October 4, 2019

"Insight into the top 5 intelligence-complex corporations is provided by financial data for 2017 from DataLab (with detailed breakdown per agency/function) and a 2016 analysis by The Nation:

"Leidos Holdings – total contacts for $1.68 billion with military and NSA for Leidos Innovations Corp. and Leidos Management Systems; merged with Lockheed Martin's Information Systems & Global Solutions division of, the global military giant.

"Booz Allen Hamilton – total contacts for $4.24 billion; it is partly owned by the Carlyle Group and Booz personnel "rapidly track high-value individuals" targeted by the US military in a system now "deployed, and fully operational in Afghanistan."

"CSRA – total contacts for $1.4 billion; its CSRA Information Service unit has a $10.4 million contract with the Army and — following a merger between CSC (which develops and manages the NSA's classified internal-communications system) and SRA International (involved in intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance has close ties to the Air Force.

"SAIC (Science Applications International Corporation) – total contacts for $3.6 billion with $906.5 million for the Army, $735.5/m for the Navy, $263.4/m for the Air Force, $94/m for the Defense Dept. and $547.8/m for Defense Logistics; recently acquired Scitor that manages satellites for the NSA and the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA).

"CACI – total contacts for $670.5 million; with $508.3 for the Army, $116.2 million for the Navy and other funding under different corporate names (e.g., CACI Federal, CACI Information Systems, CACI NSS, etc.) and recently acquired two companies doing extensive work for the NSA and the CIA: National Security Solutions (bought from L-3 Communications) and Six3 Intelligence Solutions."

Private Military Contractors Operating Without Oversight

- Add to the specter the rapid proliferation of unregulated private intelligence agencies, the rapid proliferation of Private Military Contractors. These include:

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

- American: AirScan, Academi (formerly known as Blackwater), Custer Battles, G4S, Jorge Scientific Corporation, KBR, MAG Aerospace, MPRI, Inc., MVM, Inc., Northbridge Services Group , Northrop Grumman, Raytheon, Titan Corporation, Triple Canopy, Inc., Vinnell Corporation
- UK: Aegis Defence Services, Control Risks, Erinys International, International Intelligence Limited, Sandline International
- And a long, long list of others

Adding to the tears, blood, torture and death perpetuated by all the above, is the fact that western children are being conditioned to accept and join the free-for-all blood for money industries, from military indoctrination in movies and TV shows via for example:

<https://www.operationmilitarykids.org/the-ultimate-guide-to-becoming-a-private-military-contractor/>

- And even scarier still is that President Trump doesn't even read "legitimate" special operations requests, instead he just signs them all in batches with an electronic signature. In other words, even the most junior field agent anywhere can suggest an operation against anyone anywhere and the American intelligence and military can be ordered to follow-through. The wolves are running the show now – big war-mongering corporations and also any Tom, Dick, and Harry in any country that's associated with any of a labyrinth of intelligence agencies the US Department of Defense funds. Truly, no one is safe anymore anywhere from the hounds of hell financed by the American military-industrial complex which in turn is financed by U.S. tax dollars and loans from other countries thinking (wrongly) they can buy protection from the American military-industrial complex with those loans.

II. Some Non-Violent, Education Oriented Reality Based Solutions

How the news media can make a very powerful difference

The Vietnam war is sometimes referred to as the "first television war." By 1968 there were over 600 journalists working in Vietnam.

That made a very powerful difference. This was before the major media in the US supersized and was totally usurped by the Invisible government.

Now, it's different.

Now the media in America's war zones are very rigidly controlled.

Now the Mainstream Media in the U.S. totally controls the narrative, blames the victims and certainly won't publish any photos like Time Magazine did in 1972

The photo (below) by AP's Nick Ut of nine-year-old Kim Phúc, a Vietnamese girl who had been horribly burned by U.S. sponsored South Vietnamese napalm attack would never make it into the mainstream media now as it did in 1972.

Yet, that photo helped end the war. The Invisible Government at the time blamed the media, perhaps justifiably so, but to put it more accurately, the above photo helped win the peace, which is infinitely more valuable than winning another American corporate driven bloody infinitely cruel and unjust war.

Creation and maintenance of adult-only, reality-based, real-time international news media

This project needs current videos, photos and personal narratives to illuminate the reality of war and conflict for those stuck in it – this includes publication of the wounded and deceased victims of Euro-American aggression.

Too many westerners think war is like a TV show or movie. They have no sense of the reality and finality of it. They have no concept whatsoever of the pain involved. They've never slaughtered an animal for food, or seen a person die of violence, hunger or medical neglect. They simply can't imagine it beyond Hollywood dimensions of unreality. In Hollywood all problems are solved in two hours or so, so Americans don't worry about "other people's wars" and conflicts, even in cases where the USA clearly and obviously set that war in motion. They just aren't "real" somehow in any case. In contrast photos and videos of real war victims could make a difference in their perspectives.

And too many of us people on the receiving end of American aggression are too proud or afraid to share our pain to illuminate the realities of the effects of that aggression. And thus, the unlimited brutality continues.

This must change if we want it to end. It's - that - simple.

Unfortunately, not many people read anymore. This tragedy is a byproduct of an intentional "dumbing down" of America which was greatly accelerated in the wake of the Vietnam War. Americans didn't like that war. They were too smart.

<https://www.globalresearch.ca/the-dumbing-down-of-america-by-design/5395928>

Not anymore.

In any case, video and photos are more powerful than text for most people. None-the-less detailed personal narratives can be very powerful and persuasive. <sup>i</sup>

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

These videos and photos need to be as current as possible, and highlighting the real suffering of innocents in the primarily American profit-driven wars and other conflicts.

It appears that the voters in the USA, UK and France need to see with their own eyes how they politicians are spending their taxes, specifically in the form of wounded, dying and dead men, women and children.

Defense Department spending in the U.S.

Defense Department spending in the U.S. is the primary cause of most wars and the primary reason they escalate, thus needs to be radically reduced with that money redirected to health and education in the U.S. and rebuilding the rest of the world the U.S. has been bombing and economically devastating since WWII.

<https://www.counterpunch.org/2019/08/30/bankrupt-and-irrelevant-the-presidential-debates-and-four-recent-studies-on-pentagon-spending/>

This above cited article articulately spells out a number of very specific reforms that have the potential to largely clean up the bloated American killing machine. It could be part of a blueprint for reform of the Military Industrial Complex about which former President Eisenhower warned America and the world, yet too few listened and no one took effective action to prevent.

True, voter apathy is what has allowed the Department of Defense to become the blood-drunk giant it is. And it's also true that the MSM has been a critically important support structure for initiating and perpetuating the slaughter. But at the same time, the internal mechanisms of the so-called Department of Defense spending by themselves, create a self-perpetuating mass-murder machine.

Bankrupt and Irrelevant: The Presidential Debates and Four Recent Studies on Pentagon Spending

by Pierre Sprey, Chuck Spinney and Winslow T. Wheeler

“In the almost 12 hours of Democratic Party presidential primary debates on June 26-27 and July 30-31, the words “Pentagon budget” or “defense spending” were not uttered, except for a fleeting, unanswered comment from Senator Bernie Sanders. Nor did any of the cable news moderators ask a single question about the more than $1.25 trillion dollars spent in 2019 for national security...

“In other words, for 65 years the military budget’s inexorable expansion has not been controlled by the dramatic changes in America’s actual national security needs but by political and independent cash flow demands from inside the Pentagon, Congress, industry, and think tanks.

“Four recent national security studies by respected Washington think tanks and issue organizations address the current defense spending problem. They each cut DOD programs and change policies to save money. The 25 authors (some with decades of experience and for whom we have real appreciation) have written over 50 recommendations supported by considerable details. That the Democratic candidates have publicly ignored them all does not speak to the studies’ quality. Instead, it speaks to the candidates’ unwillingness to pick a fight with the horde of big spending advocates in both parties who will sling Pentagon- and corporation-written slick rebuttals, but certainly not campaign contributions, at any proposed reduction.

“Taken together, the four studies have three common themes:

- + The US wars in Afghanistan, Iraq, Yemen, Libya, Syria, Somalia and elsewhere—initiated or perpetuated by Presidents Bush, Obama and Trump—have “failed” and “have made the world more dangerous,” and something should be done. The ‘something’ varies from study to study.

- + The massive nuclear programs initiated by President Obama and expanded by President Trump should be partially reduced or eliminated—again, the recommendations vary.

- + A long list of conventional weapons, basing infrastructure and Pentagon military and civilian personnel programs should be cancelled or reduced...

“The four studies’ recommended cuts vary from $1.25 trillion to $3.5 trillion over ten years. Two of the studies state they want to spend the savings on domestic programs; the other two do not commit themselves.

“Each of the studies calls for “eliminating” the Pentagon’s special Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) account (“slush fund”), an account that was deliberately exempted from statutory budget caps on the basis that it was just to pay for the various wars. Not quite: for more than a decade the Pentagon and the Congress have been stuffing in extra and ever-growing non-war billions. Sadly, the studies have no advice on how to eliminate this slush fund... Effective action would be to simply repeal the provisions of the 1990 Budget Enforcement Act that permit money designated “emergency” by Congress and the President to be exempted from discretionary spending caps...

“There is no oversight of this broken system. For example, no one knows exactly what is done with the money DOD gets from Congress. Despite the Constitution's requirement that "a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time," DOD remains the only federal department that has never complied..."

<https://www.counterpunch.org/2019/08/30/bankrupt-and-irrelevant-the-presidential-debates-and-four-recent-studies-on-pentagon-spending/>

[The above cited study/article deserves to be read in full, and its recommendations taken seriously if America's wars are ever to end. The ongoing wars, and wars on the horizon are just too profitable for the mega-giant corporations to end or prevent. The CIA isn't needed to run a false-flag operation to start a war against Iran – again – any one of the big defense department contractors can easily run an operation like that by themselves.]

The Absolute Need for Political Campaign Finance Reform in the United States

Two court decisions in the United States greatly expedited the infinite corruption that stalks the hallways of power in Washington DC, hugely facilitating absolute corporate rule of the US and world:

- Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, 558 U.S. 310 (2010) – which decided that giving money to politicians is perfectly OK. This decision must be re-heard and reconsidered by the court. Blizzards of subsequent events have irrefutably proven quid pro quo relationships between donors and politicians do in fact occur and ultimately result in shaping policy and starting and prolonging wars.
- Likewise, the decisions in SpeechNow.org. v. FEC needs to be heard by a Supreme Court that will not tolerate the infinite corruption that is now the accepted norm in the United States and world, and reverse that Appeals Court decision.

According to the courts: "This type of independent expenditure committee is inherently non-corruptive." That judge should have his head examined, or perhaps sent to DR Congo, Yemen, or Syria, Myanmar, Iraq, Somalia or Afghanistan for a while, without their credit cards and other fancy accoutrements. Maybe they need to hold the bodies of some of the children killed in wars - caused by American weapon corporations' control of the American political machine - in their arms for a while, or just listen to the mournful sobs of their surviving loved ones. The Appeals Court and Supreme Court "justices" (except for the dissenting judges) are bereft of moral conscience and permitting and encouraging absolute corruption within the most murderous nation on earth. Most Americans are not bigoted but the American foreign policy decision makers most definitely are and the Appeals and Supreme Courts not only let it all happen but facilitated it. The court decisions referred to immediately above will directly invariably lead to the downfall of the United States of America and World War III. They spell death to freedom and liberty world-wide. They are an abomination of truth and justice.

Perspectives on the Constitution: A Republic, If You Can Keep It, by Richard R. Beeman, Ph.D.

"If there is a lesson in all of this it is that our Constitution is neither a self-actuating nor a self-correcting document. It requires the constant attention and devotion of all citizens. There is a story, often told, that upon exiting the Constitutional Convention Benjamin Franklin was approached by a group of citizens asking what sort of government the delegates had created. His answer was: "A republic, if you can keep it." The brevity of that response should not cause us to under-value its essential meaning: democratic republics are not merely founded upon the consent of the people, they are also absolutely dependent upon the active and informed involvement of the people for their continued good health.”

<https://constitutioncenter.org/learn/educational-resources/historical-documents/perspectives-on-the-constitution-a-republic-if-you-can-keep-it>

A corrupted democracy is far worse than an ordinary tyranny, because with a publicly acknowledged tyrant at least people know what’s going on. In a corrupted democracy where-in a subservient press conceals the nature of that corruption, people have the illusion of freedoms without any of the benefits and they truly become blind ignorant slaves. When this occurs in a superpower that has for all practical purposes rulership over most of the planet, the rattling of the chains of the oppressed is not even heard due to the oily rationalizations of the obsequious suborned media.

The adult voting publics in the USA, France and the UK need to get busy

- If the reader is working in a weapon’s manufacturing factory or the MSM in the US, France or the UK, please make a moral decision and quit. Find honest employment elsewhere. It’s better to sweep floors or wash toilets than make weapons to kill innocent men, women and children. Organize demonstrations and a strike around that factory and/or MSM outlet. You may be surprised how many people will support you. Morality and ethics are not dead in the USA or Europe, just sleeping, waiting for someone courageous enough to take a stand.
- Vote the war-monger politicians out of office. Research your Senate, Congressional and/or parliamentary representatives. Find out about their voting records. It’s easy. Listen carefully to the people running in the next presidential and/or Prime Ministerial elections. Which, if any will stand up against Euro/America’s endless wars?
- Make Christmas a day of fasting and prayer for the victims of Euro-American wars. Sure, buy presents for the kids if you must, but educate them to the realities of a fake Christianity that has usurped governments and spearheads colonial efforts. Teach the original teachings of Jesus of Nazareth, beginning with “Love your neighbor as yourself.” Denounce war, and teach your children well. It’s more satisfying to donate money originally intended for gifts to help provide food, water and medical supplies to the millions of refugee children around the world.

I don’t blame the voting publics in the US, France and the UK for their lackadaisical attitudes now. The MSM in all three countries have been hiding the infinitely cruel and brutal truths of those nations’ colonial slaughters for centuries. They are weaponized disinformation machines. The people are not to blame, and so they desperately need an Adults-only, reality-based, real-time international news media to help them see with their own eyes, and feel with unblinded hearts the realities of those nations “foreign policies,” and the effects of those policies on innocent people NOW, today, in real-time.

Alcohol and other strong drugs have helped “dumb down” too many people in western nations and now is a pretty good time to break those habits, wake up and smell the coffee

It is possible to ween oneself off alcohol and drug addiction. Cut down by 10% - 25% every day or every week. Substitute pushups, swimming, jogging, basketball, dance and/or yoga. Try joining a gym to “take the edge off” withdrawal symptoms. Try religion if you can find a rabbi, minister, priest, or imam that genuinely promotes peace instead of war. There are no good rationalizations for war.

Keep an open mind to different perspectives than the MSM has been teaching

Take for example President Erdogan in Turkey. He’s a better Christian than any of the richest 1% in America, a better Christian than any president of the U.S. since Abraham Lincoln, and definitely a better Christian than any director of CIA, even though he’s Muslim. How so? Turkey gives refuge to refugees, and other stateless people, vastly more than any other nation – about four million human beings as of the beginning of 2019. <http://reporting.unhcr.org/node/2544> Turkey allows refugees to work and build new lives without prejudices based on race and/or religion. That’s the Christian thing to do. “Love thy neighbor as thyself,” the Good Book says.

It was only three years ago the CIA aided an attempted coup against the Turkish government. Yet, the doors in Turkey are still open. They don’t react with fear and terror. President Erdogan is a straightforward and God-fearing man. Meanwhile Americans and Europeans close and lock the doors to the refugees their own wars have created. That’s cruel. That’s the devil at work, not Christianity. European and American leaders and the people that vote for them should be ashamed, working to end the wars, and help the refugees rather than demonizing them and locking them out.

The war the American military industrial complex is planning for Iran must not go forward, yet all the pieces are in motion and already enormous momentum has gathered

President Trump is only waiting for the right time. Saudi Prince MBS's diplomats can hug all the Iranian diplomats all they want, but it won't make any difference when the American government or corporate driven false-flag operation starts the war. Prince MBS is only a disposable piece on the American war machine's chessboard. Immediate action is needed because 1) it's evil cruel slaughter of thousands and potentially millions of innocents on all sides of that war, and 2) it's very likely to be the trigger for many other conflicts around the world. Simultaneously the US must impose weapons blockades on all allies that use those weapons against innocents, which certainly includes Israel, Saudi Arabia and the UAE.

All nations must stop using torture and rape as instruments of war.

They have become ubiquitous in Euro-American driven wars.

The U.S., French and UK governments must rapidly and forcibly ensure their weapons industries “diversify their portfolios”

This is essential so they can transition out of weapons manufacturing into more constructive industries, e.g. construction and engineering to rebuild places they have destroyed, and help build infrastructure in those nations they have been ransacking for centuries, principally in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

Please remember, peace is possible if enough people keep their eyes on the prize, get out of their easy chairs and start to work to make a difference. It will require changing some habits. It will take effort, but failing to do so will have catastrophic results for everyone, everywhere now, and for generations to come. If you love your children, start to work for peace today because they will inherit the bloody mess our wars are causing now. It's that simple.

They're not sleeping. They're dead; murdered by the sycophants of the American war machine – NATO. Pictured above are Afghan villagers who sit near the bodies of children who were killed during a NATO airstrike in Kunar province on April 7, 2013. (Photo: Reuters)

Note: Though the photos I'm now using are compelling, they are individually fragmented pieces of news. They are littered amongst hundreds of other unrelated stories in those newspapers and magazines.

One site is needed to compile the mosaic of human suffering that the Euro-American war machine is propagating around the world into a more complete picture of what is really going on in the world, as the result of the infinite greed of the richest 1% in the world encouraged and supported by the "Invisible Government" of the United States of America.

If it is necessary to show photos and videos of the dying and deceased in order to move the hearts of a jaded voting public around the world, then that is what must be done. Hence this proposal for:

Appendix 1 – Proposed Request and Specifications for Photos, Videos and Personal Narratives from American Driven Conflicts Around the World

The Illumination Project: Blood of the Innocents is requesting that all survivors, and witnesses to American driven conflicts around the world send:

- authentic videos and/or photos of the realities of that violence and brutality, including torture and the deceased,
- detailed personal narratives of the realities of the brutality of these primarily American driven wars (preferably in English, however other language will be accepted – though lag time on translations will vary)

Respect for the Suffering of the Innocent and the Deceased

During the preparation phase of this project one team member asked: “Don’t you think it’s disrespectful of the suffering and deceased to post photos or videos on the Internet. My answer was and remains:

If I thought there was:

- some possibility of obtaining justice for the victim(s), and/or
- some possibility of preventing similar tragedies from happening to others,

I don’t believe it is disrespectful. I think allowing cruel abuses to continue unabated because of pride and/or honor is disrespectful to others who can so easily suffer similar cruel abuses in the future.

Specifications

- Time and date stamped photos are best, though not always possible. Thus,
- please attach a document with:
  - time of events recorded,
  - date of events recorded,
  - location of events recorded and
  - circumstances of the events recorded in photos/videos/personal narratives
- Please mention in that document if you want/need your name/identify kept confidential. All of this project’s records are stored on multiple external hard-drives, transitioned through smaller USBs for obvious security purposes. All USBs are re-formatted between uses to ensure there is no outward leak of information.
- Also please include a photo of your Identification if possible, and those of any other witnesses
- If you send photos/videos or a personal narrative that might endanger you or others, please mark the potentially dangerous information as CONFIDENTIAL and it will be stored but not posted until such time as you notify the editors at The Illumination Project that it is now safe.
- Please do not send fakes as they will be discovered and exposed as fakes sooner or later.
- Please do not send things you download from the Internet, unless you include the URL, download date and other background information requested above.
- Please sign and date release form giving The Illumination Project: Blood of the Innocents permission to post the records you send on its Internet site.

Once sufficient “critical mass” of documentary evidence (videos/photos/personal narratives) have been collected, The Illumination Project: Blood of the Innocents will go “live,” as at this point not enough original documentary evidence has been collected.

This page contains adult-only content. If you are under age 18, please – for your own safety - close this page now.

Once photos/videos/personal narratives become “dated” they will be transitioned to the Holocaust Archives, also online.

Please see and fill out Release Form on the next page. If you do not have access to a printer (for the signature), please photograph your signature, paste it into the text portion of your email and also as an attachment.

Concluding Statement

Time is running out. The momentum of the killing machine – the infinite greed and ruthlessness of those that maintain it – has collected far too much momentum already, and the volume of torture and killing is and has been far too extreme for too long. The time for long deliberation is not available to those who need help now and in the near future (e.g. Iran).

The fragmented media is partly and/or largely to blame. This project’s goal is to defragment the realities of war and violent conflicts using primarily photos and videos to educate the voting publics in the USA and Europe.

This proposal is designed to communicate with and educate the voting publics in those western countries that motivate, propagate and arm belligerents in wars in order to stop the ongoing wars and other violent conflicts and prevent new wars and other violent conflicts.

If this can only be accomplished by “in your face” confrontation with the bloody results of war and other violent conflicts, by showing photos and videos of the real brutality of real wars, then that is what must be done. One thing is for sure, of the millions who have tried to make a difference to slow down and stop the drum-beat of war, none, zero, have come close to succeeding.

This proposed Blood of the Innocent – War Illumination Project - - Proposal for a new adult reality-based, real-time, uncensored international news media may be thought of as a “Hail Mary Pass,” a last desperate effort to wake up the sleeping individual and moral conscience of the voting publics in Europe and the USA.

Deceased Gaza Child from:

Bill Hartung, an authority on military spending, wrote in 2018, “the biggest economic challenge facing the United States today is how to organize an economic transition that would replace jobs and income generated by dysfunctional activities like overspending on the Pentagon and subsidizing polluting industries.” His answer is very simple: “invest in virtually anything but buying more and more weapons and waging more wars and America will be better off.”

<https://www.counterpunch.org/2019/10/04/how-the-u-s-military-undermines-the-american-economy/>

I would refine that a bit, to include reparations for survivors and victim family members, and infrastructure reconstruction of nations blasted apart by American aggression would be excellent and appropriate alternative investments for America’s ill-spent so-called defense budget.

“Jesus said unto him, ‘thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.’ On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.”

<sup>1</sup> I read a book a few days ago titled: “Welcome to Hell – One Man’s Fight for Life Inside the Bangkok Hilton.” How much of that story is true, and how completely the story is told, I don’t know, but the narratives of life inside a Bangkok prison were very powerful indeed. Reading it I kept wondering: Why haven’t I ever read powerfully written detailed narratives about life in Egyptian dictator Abdel Fattah Saeed Hussein Khalil El-Sisi’s torture centers, or in Libyan “refugee centers” or in dozens of other countries(?) or “simply” the often-extreme realities of refugee experiences?

These kinds of experiences should be available to all readers, yes, even those without credit cards, because all voters in western nations need to be reached and educated regarding the real results of western promoted wars and domination in the “developing world,” not just those voters with credit cards.

Only better communication and education can set us all free.

One thing is for sure, what our “free press” and liberals have been doing so far to stop the insanity of war has not been working.
