Will President Biden respond to a direct challenge by freelance writer Gregory Brundage, daring him to permit a Special Referendum to see if the American people really want to start WWII, and risk species extinction in order for the USA to attain the dream of world domination forever ('global hegemony in perpetuity')?

I, Gregory Christopher Brundage, of the Land of New Jersey, do hereby formally Challenge President Joseph Robinette Biden Jr. to hold a Special Referendum to Decide if the Good Citizens of the United States of America Really Want to Gamble on Starting WWII, and the Thermonuclear Obliteration it Can and Probably Will Cause, In Order to Nourish A Psychotic Fantasy of American Total Domination of the Entire Earth Forever. Do You, President Joseph Biden, Have the Courage to Accept This Challenge?

The American “defense” establishment (euphemistically called the “Department of War”) is trying to pick a fight, three in fact, knowing full well each has the distinct possibility of triggering WWII, yes, thermonuclear war – the ultimate war, the war that can cause global extinction of all life on earth.

Really? Oh yes, really. I’d much rather go out jogging this fine April morning, than sit here in front of my word processor typing this story, but I think preventing WWII is a better long-term investment, even though jogging is far more pleasurable. What use is it for me to be healthy and strong, if President Biden and his pack of “interventionists” (“war-mongers” in the vernacular) starts WWII and kills everyone, including me? My jogging this morning would have been a waste, so here I sit, challenging President Biden to hold a Popular Referendum to see what most Americans really think instead.

Here’s the question:

Do you believe it is in the best interest of the USA and World, to risk WWII, and thermonuclear in order to:

1. stop China from developing economically? (Is the USA really so incapable of competing in a fair international marketplace it has to start a war, e.g., by crowding the South China Sea with US Naval Carrier Groups and nuclear submarines?)
2. stop Iran from having a nuclear energy program? (Nuclear energy is the only thing their “enriched nuclear material” is good for – at least so far - because it is fused in metal plates that cannot be used for bombs, only nuclear energy.)
3. permit the USA to keep stealing oil from Syria? (Millions of dollars of oil, and their wheat too) and,
4. “settle a squabble” between Russia and its neighbor Ukraine? (They used to get along fine before the USA stuck its nose in their business, but you know a lot about that, don’t you?)

American newspapers are screaming about “outrages” by Iran/Syria, Russia and China. Yet these are illusions. In fact, Iran, Syria, Russia and China want to live in peace, but the USA will not let them. The evidence against them all is fabricated, a bunch of thread-bear lies that will not stand the test of time, just like the Iraq war.

Why?

The roots of this story are not that old; not old by the Silk Road nations you are cruelly attacking.

The USA started out with Spanish, British and French colonizing North America. Soon enough like a pack of vultures they got to fighting each over the spoils of this “new land,” actually stolen ancient land, but that's a different series of atrocities. Before dismissing this topic too quickly, it might be mentioned that the name of the "ancient land" was Hah-nu-nah in the Iroquoian language and they believed it to be a place of eternal peace – but that was before the white people came.

After the Europeans it was endless war.

Finally, the early "Americans" had a revolutionary war against British colonial aspirations and a "new nation" was born on the blood and bones of the original inhabitants of North America who were relegated to large interment camps. That new nation was very rich in land and natural resources. It grew mighty fusing people from all over Europe in a large melting pot while feasting on the wealth of that stolen land and the sweat and blood of African slaves. Again, there was no end to the wars.

By the end of WWII, the USA emerged as the world's sole superpower.

Right from the beginning of the USA and until today it appears war is very good business for the USA! For example, WWII pulled the USA out of the final remnants of the Great Depression. Yes! The clever economists surmised: war is always very good business indeed! Immediately after the end of WWII the USA supported the Nationalists in the Civil War in China and then launched a war in Korea.

And so, the USA continued starting one very profitable war and conflict after another, and then several at the same time all around the world believing the great lie that the USA was destined by God to Rule the Entire Earth Forever.

This seemed to the American colonialists to be a logical extension of Manifest Destiny which gave birth to American Exceptionalism, which all worked out very well for the very rich capitalists in the USA. So, with these glorious precedents in mind, it's been "Onward Christian Soldiers" ever since.

Fast forward to the 21st Century and "little obstacles" are appearing on this glorious march to the realization of the American Dream of ruling an American Global Empire forever.

Strangely, it turns out, everyone in the world does not want to be sucked into one huge Global American Empire.

This seems mighty ungrateful to American hegemonic designers. And, like the wrathful Gods the American Emperors believe themselves to be, they shall smite the rebellious heathens a mighty blow wherever they appear.

And so, once again the American Department of War is trying to pick some fights. Better humanity as whole become extinct than the Philistines have any self-determination in this world, eh? Like the mighty Samson, President Biden is going to Bring Down the Temple, and potentially kill everyone one earth, rather than allow diversity to continue in this world.

And thus, I, Gregory Christopher Brundage from the Land of New Jersey, in the name of Diversity and Humanity as a Whole, do hereby Challenge President Joseph Robinette Biden Jr. To a Popular Referendum.

Let God, and the American Citizens Decide!
